Now You See It/Now You Don't

The amenities at Beare Park in Sydney's Elizabeth Bay have been given a facelift by Sam Crawford Architects. Set against a rock face in the corner of the park and viewed from above by people in surrounding apartment blocks, the architects have installed a green roof and green walls. This once unsightly building is now camouflaged and blends into the vegetation around.

Push it Real Good

What to do?

You want to ride to work or school but you don't want to spend the day sitting in your stinky riding clothes. Penny Farthings have come up with a beaut pod where you can lock up your bike while you have a shower and climb into your daywear. These nifty capsules have lockers for you to store your stuff while you go off and enjoy your working day.
